

COMING TO THE CROSSROADS

'It is in your moments of decision that your destiny is shaped.' Tony Robbins

Every road travelled in life will have options. It's only when there isn't a clear purpose for the journey do we struggle. How boring would life be if we never had to make decisions, if someone always made them for us, or if life was so predictable we didn't have to deal with them?

